

Miss Candace Catlin Woodruff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Woodruff, one of this season's debutantes.
(c) Underwood & Underwood.

Miss Julia Ward Hall, chairman of the Junior Commission for Russian Famine Relief.
(c) Underwood & Underwood.

At right—Mme. Marthe Beche is private secretary to the Hon. Maurice Casenave, financial adviser to the French delegation to the Limitation of Armaments Conference.
(c) Clinedinst.

The first posed photograph of Brig-Gen. Dawes since he undertook the gigantic task of directing a national budget.
(c) Harris & Ewing.

This remarkable photograph of the Horseshoe Falls was made by Lieut. F. E. Haggvist from a plane flying low over the brink of the cataract.
Kadel & Herbert.

At right—Among those who helped at the annual Christmas sale for the benefit of the Art Workers Club were, left to right: Mrs. L. Martinez-Picabia, Mrs. Charles Coster and Miss E. M. Post.
Paul Thompson.

Two tame mallard ducklings with their young protectress at Lake Merritt, in the heart of Oakland, Cal.
Brown Bros.

An annual New Year's attraction at Oakland, Cal., is a pageant produced among the thousands of wild ducks which find a winter haven there. The ducks become so tame that they can be fed by hand.
Brown Bros.